WHO ARE WE?

At Ono Hawaiian BBQ, we specialize in Hawaiian cuisine by offering an authentic selection of Hawaiian “Plate Lunches” and a variety of island inspired foods. We are passionate about combining the culture and the “Aloha” spirit of Hawaii into our restaurants, bringing you a taste of the islands with exceptional service in an inviting atmosphere.

WHY ONO?

“Ono” means delicious in Hawaiian and our food is our name. The key to being Ono is using fresh ingredients and making our dishes in-house daily using our delicious recipes. We create our sauces from scratch and marinate our meats everyday for a blend of perfect flavor. We hand roll our Katsu in panko bread crumbs. Even our Teriyaki and Katsu sauces are prepared in-house with our unique blend of authentic Hawaiian spices.

WHAT IS A PLATE LUNCH?

What started out as a street fare for immigrants and sailors on the docks of Honolulu has not only become the meal of choice in Hawaii, but has also become a favorite among many on the mainland.

Our Plate Lunch consists of two scoops of rice, one scoop of our specialty macaroni salad and your choice of entree over a bed of steamed vegetables. Freshly barbecued upon your order.

Joshua Liang

Founder & CEO

Things that have remained the same are our dedication to quality and freshness. Much of our recipes are proprietary and created in-house, as are our sauces and marinades. Everything is made-to-order and since day 1—we have not strayed from these values.

The background image shows a modern restaurant interior. The walls are made of vertical wooden planks. A bright yellow surfboard is mounted on the wall, with the text "Ono Hawaiian BBQ" written on it. Several pendant lights made of thick rope hang from the ceiling. In the foreground, there are long wooden tables with black metal legs and bright yellow metal bar stools. A teal banner with white text is overlaid in the center. In the background, there are large windows and a poster for a "GRANT CHEMINE CELEBRATION" with a "$100" price tag and "BUY ONE GET ONE FREE" offer.
